L'année de l'initiation et de l'intégration

The year of initiation and integration

Parce que personne ne devait être vénéré ou condamné. J'écris et j'aime.
Arrêter le blâme, stopper le doute, mettre fin à la honte et aux remords.
Renaître de soi et aimer nos imperfections qui reflètent nos apprentissages.

Mes amis, dans la noirceur, brille à jamais notre lumière néon ou notre chandelle fondante. Soyons un phare, soyons l'espérance de chacun pour l'autre.

Sans une lueur d'espoir, l'obscurité nous emporte et de là naît l'idée, d'où émerge le salut de l'être en devenir.

From the unknown, bursts knowledge and freedom. From the shadows, the heroes of the heart awaken. From the need to find oneself, the real journey begins. How can you recognize what you are, as you look to others for answers? The expansion is grand, the expansion is great, but the vastness of it all could give vertigo to the bravest mountain lion. When the heart finds its place again and the world stops spinning around you, you are left with the thrill in the air and the fear in your veins. Change is frightening and we are ever-changing. You cannot control what is. You create it by simply being. Reality is there for you to have boundaries in your experience. It is intrinsically linked to all that you must learn. By being too aware of the workings of the play that is being put on, you lose the best part of life itself: the beauty of not knowing.

TELL IT AS IT IS

Caro

Open your mouth and pronounce these words: "It's over and I'm moving on."
I'm a very understanding person.
Have you forgotten that it's me?

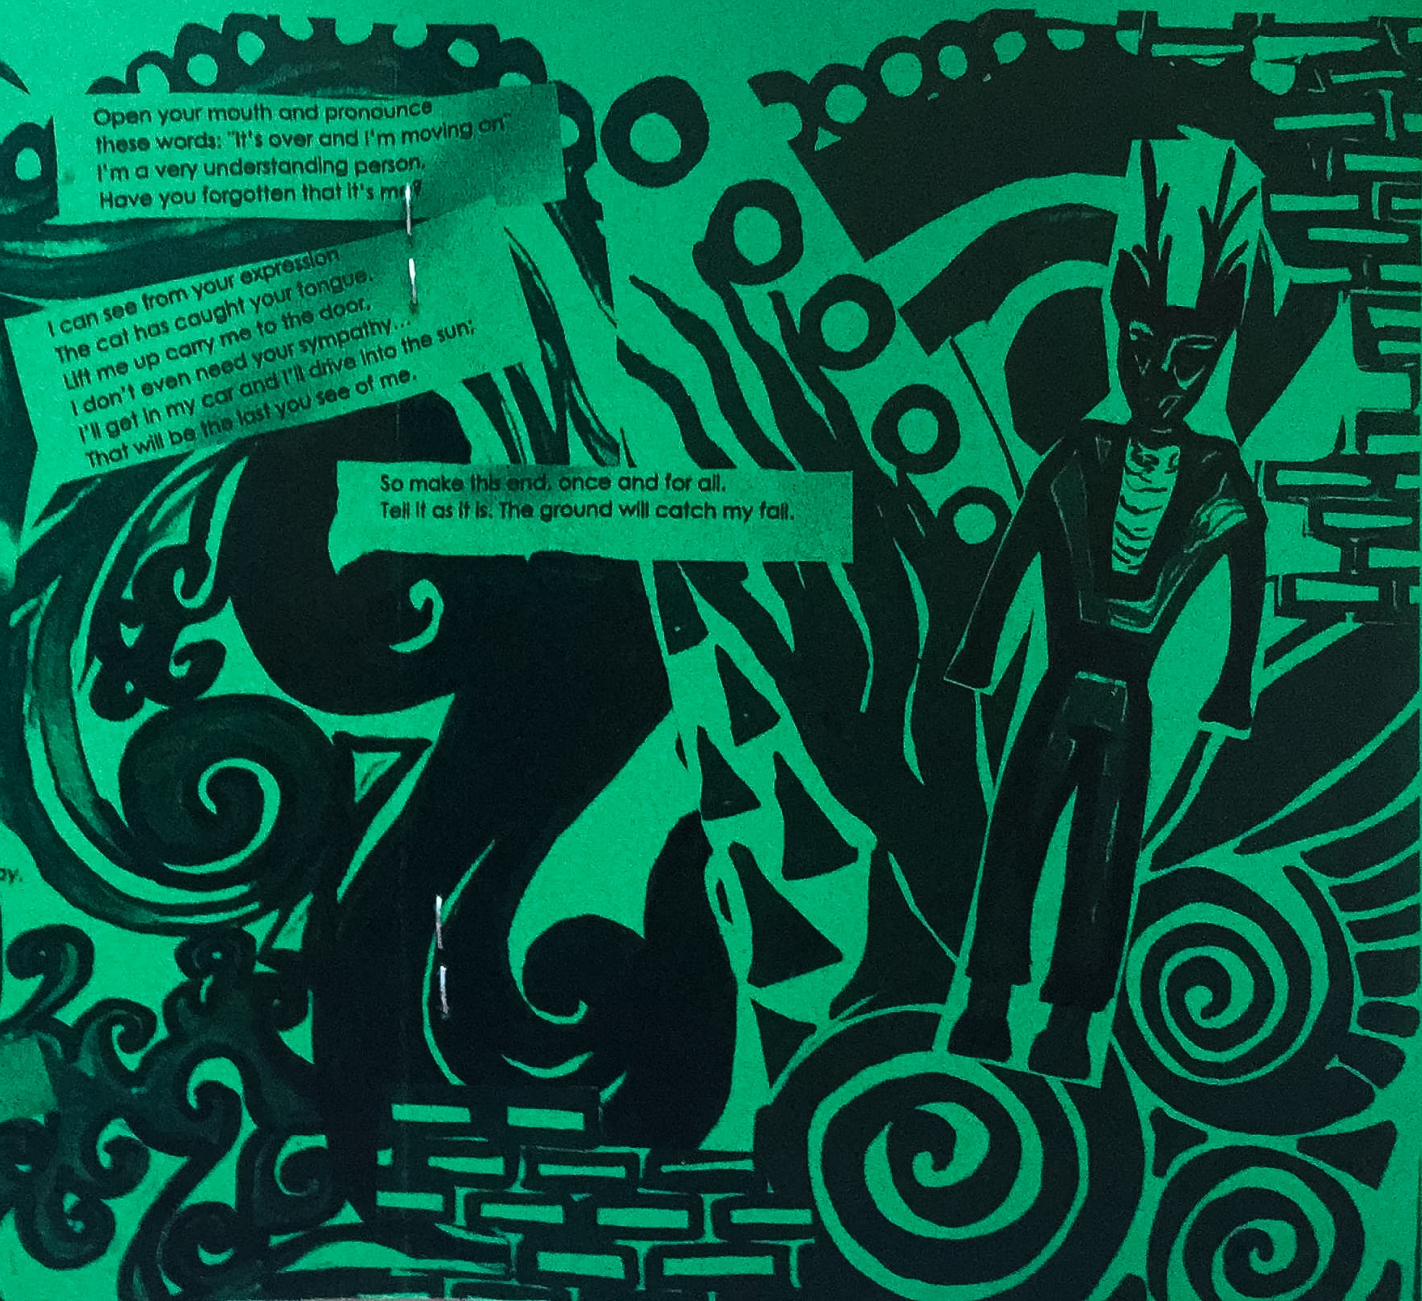

I can see from your expression
The cat has caught your tongue.
Lift me up carry me to the door,
I don't even need your sympathy...
I'll get in my car and I'll drive into the sun;
That will be the last you see of me.

So make this end, once and for all,
Tell it as it is. The ground will catch my fall.

Tell me,
Tell me,
Don't be afraid,
Pain is just Another sensation
I have felt it
Time and again,
Tell me what you have to say.

I can see from your expression
The cat has caught your tongue.
Your lips are burning, how can you resist?
Standing there waiting to be freed,
Close your eyes and take a deep breath,
It's easier than you think.

So make this end, once and for all,
Tell it as it is. The ground will catch my fall.

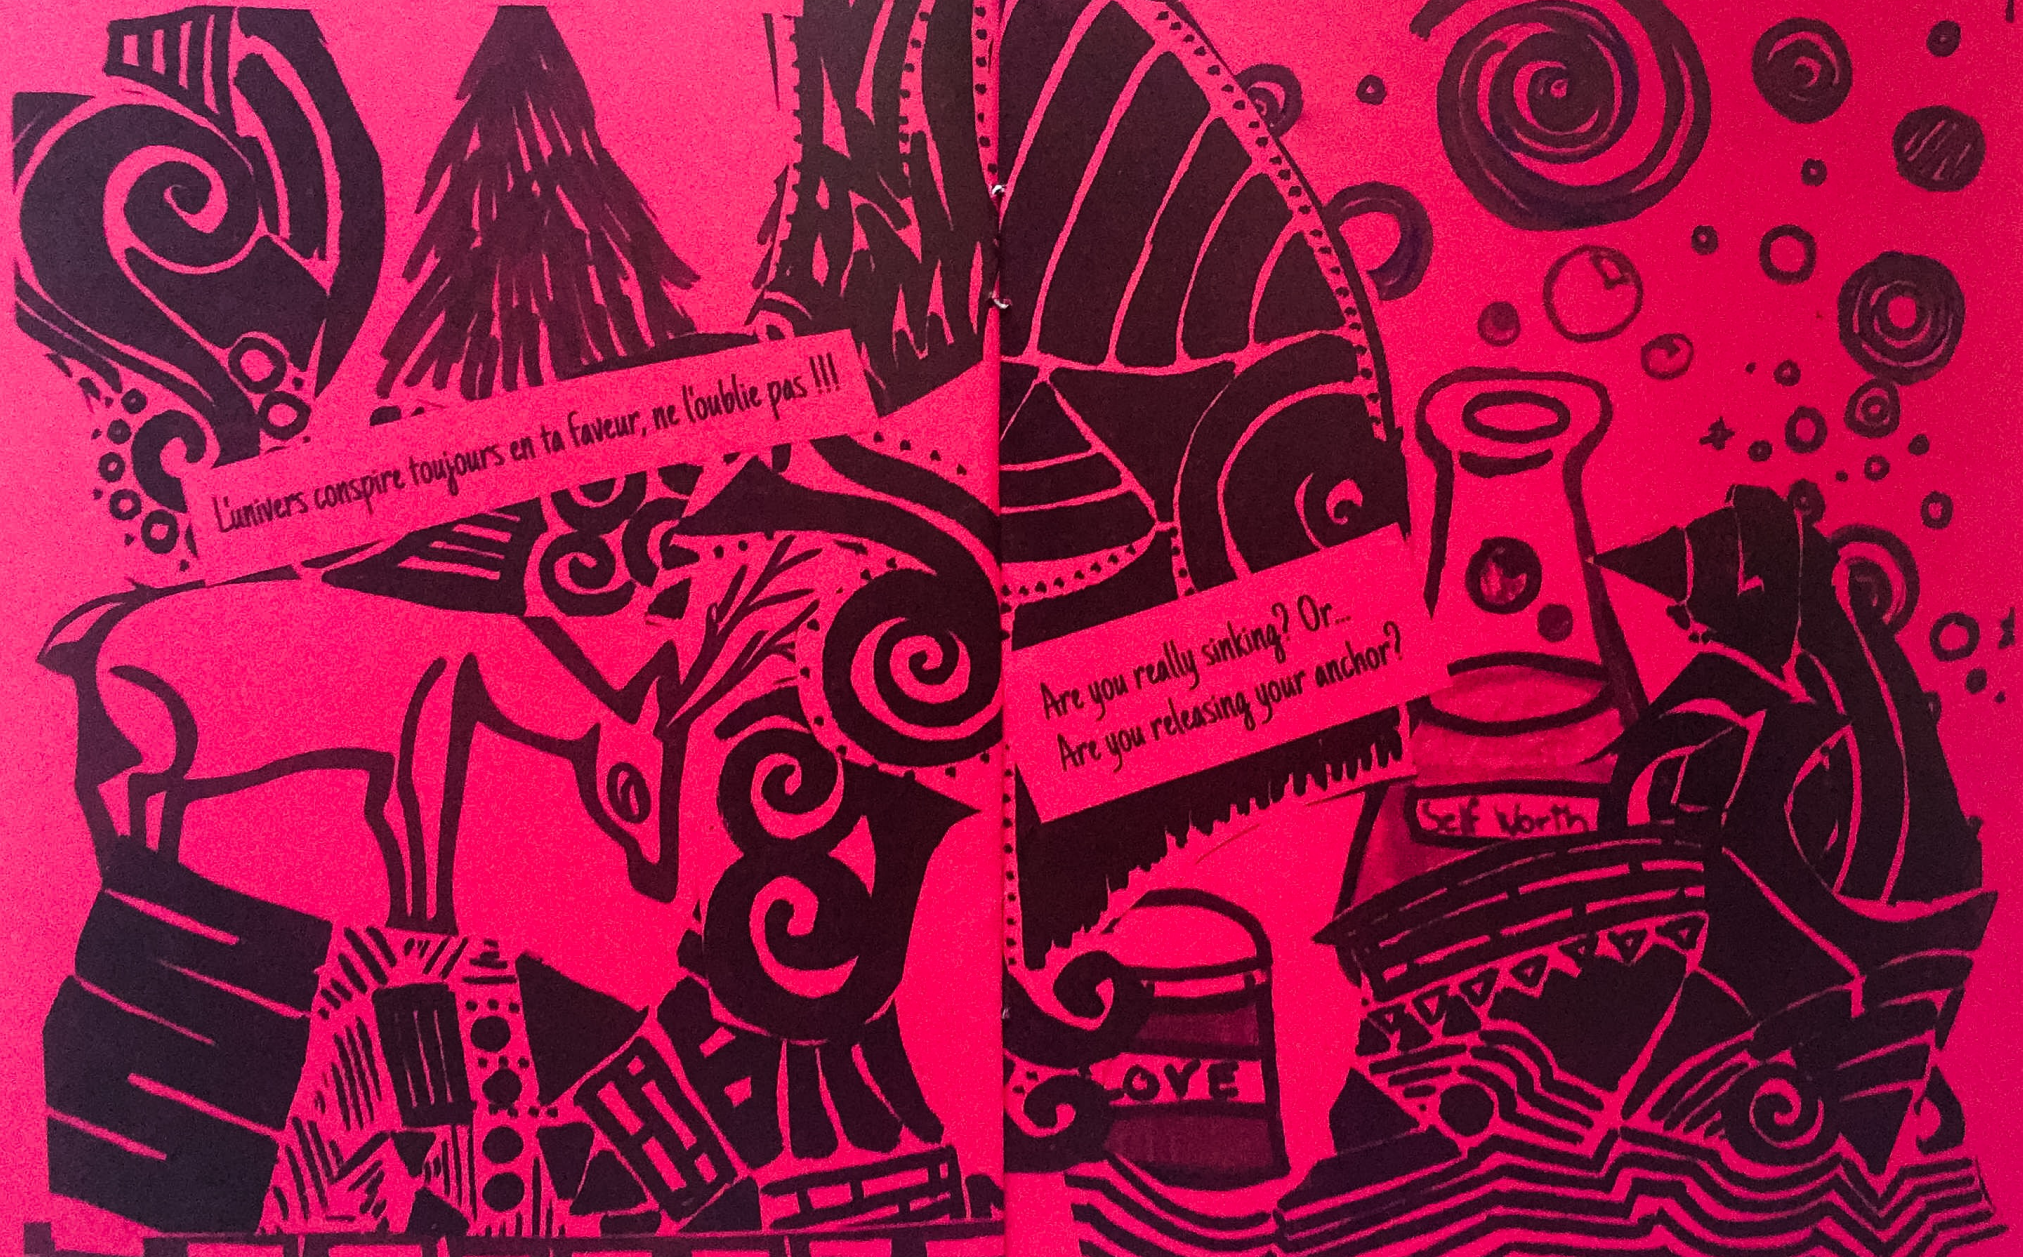

Je crois en toi. I believe in you. Je suis fier de toi. I am proud of you.

L'univers conspire toujours en ta faveur, ne l'oublie pas !!!

Are you really sinking? Or...
Are you releasing your anchor?
